

November 01, 2017

Dear FMC and DuPont Crop Supplier,

I am pleased to announce that on November 1, 2017, FMC Corporation closed its acquisition of a significant portion of DuPont's global crop protection business. Today marks the beginning of the new FMC Agricultural Solutions with a broader portfolio of leading brands, a deeper pipeline of new technologies, greater global scale, and a world-class R&D organization.

This acquisition includes many of DuPont Crop Protection's most respected and successful products, including industry-leading insecticides based on Rynaxypyr® brand, Cyazypyr® brand and Indoxacarb active ingredients.

Most large crop protection companies are going through significant changes. At FMC, we have invested significant resources to ensure our transaction with DuPont was seamless and we look forward to a continued productive partnership with all our suppliers.

On the FMC Supplier page, under the Accounts Payable page, you can find a list of DuPont locations that have transferred to FMC, and their corresponding invoice instructions and addresses. To ensure supplier availability and continuity of goods and services, the purchases and agreements associated with those locations have been assigned to FMC.

The acquired DuPont Crop Protection products are now with FMC's portfolio. We will operate as one company. We value our relationship, and look forward to working with you and your team in the future.

If you have any questions, please contact Vendor.Communications@fmc.com.

Sincerely,
